1. In July 1954, the Rumanian units stationed at Targul Mures (R 36/R 68) were in the summer camps where they had been since the spring of 1954. Mountain infantrymen were quartered in the former Hungarian 82d Infantry Barracks south of the former Hungarian cadet school which is now used as a technical university. An artillery unit is stationed at the former Hungarian Artillery Barracks southeast of the bridge over the Mures River; a cavalry unit is located in the former Hungarian Tank Barracks southwest of the townhall. A recruiting headquarters (Cercul de Recrutare) was located in a two-story building northeast of the citadel church.
2. On 13 June 1954, a large group of soldiers whose number could not be estimated was observed on the northern bank of the Danube River, 9 kilometers east of Zimnicea (R 33/34/H 05). The soldiers, some of whom were in the water, were working with posts. About 50 pontoons were in the water and on land.
